

Home page: I like the idea of having accordion dropdowns for classes, however i think the accordion inside of another accordion is redundant and doesn't really make sense

View Rubric: I think that makes sense

Add Class: Thats good, it makes sense.

Create Rubric: Yeah that makes sense, it sounds consistent with the last page (add class)

Define Criteria: maybe shift the verify button on the other side (bottom right) to keep them separate so that you dont stack 2 things on top of each other

Create Survey: Make it say somewhere that the fields are required, sounds consistent with previous pages

Update Survey: Shouldnt the input background be the other way around? The info that cant be changed should be grayed out and the ones that could be should be white

Survey Results: That sounds good

Update Roster Popup: Keep the expand on right, shift close to the far left
